Bernita W. Demery, CPA, Appointed to Board

The North Carolina State Board of CPA Examiners is pleased to announce that Governor Josh Stein has appointed Bernita W. Demery, CPA, of Harrisburg, to the Board for a three-year term expiring on June 30, 2029. Ms. Demery previously served on the Board 2019-2025.

During her previous Board service, Ms. Demery served as President and Vice President and as a member of the Executive, Professional Education and Application, Strategy, and Audit Committees.

Board President Jodi Kruse, CPA, has appointed Ms. Demery to serve on the Board's 2026-2027 Audit and Investment Committees.

Ms. Demery is a member of the North Carolina Association of CPAs (NCACPA), the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA), and the National Society of Black CPAs (NSBCPA).

Nationally, she is a past member of NASBA's Communications, Audit, and CEO/President Selection Advisory Committees.

2027 CPA Firm Registration Renewal and Peer Review Compliance Reporting

The 2027 CPA firm registration renewal and peer review compliance reporting period is now open. All renewals must be completed through the Board's online portal using either the supervising CPA's individual portal account or, if designated, an authorized representative's individual portal account.

Before beginning the renewal, firms should make sure the supervising CPA listed in the Board's records is correct. If the supervising CPA has changed since the 2026 registration renewal period, the firm must notify the Board's Licensing Staff. The notification should include:

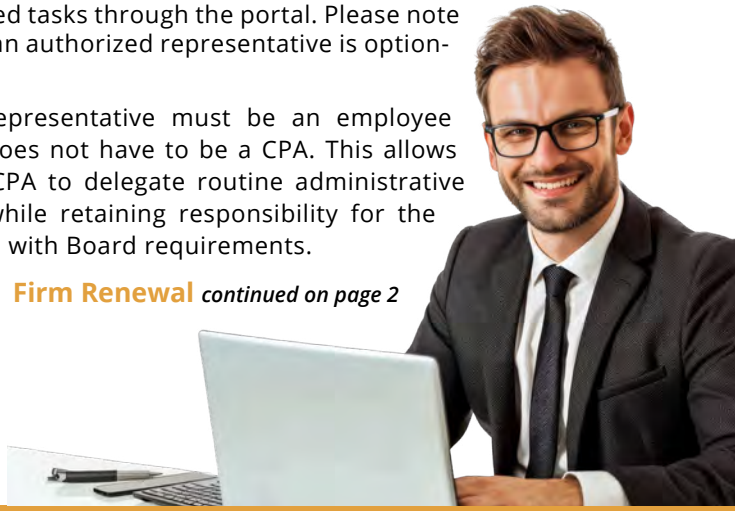

- The former supervising CPA's name and certificate number,
- The current supervising CPA's name and certificate number, and
- The firm's name and location.

Who Can Complete the Firm Registration Renewal?

The supervising CPA on record with the Board may complete the firm's renewal through their individual portal account. However, supervising CPAs may now designate an authorized representative to handle firm-related tasks through the portal. Please note that designating an authorized representative is optional, not required.

An authorized representative must be an employee of the firm but does not have to be a CPA. This allows the supervising CPA to delegate routine administrative responsibilities while retaining responsibility for the firm's compliance with Board requirements.

How to Designate an Authorized Representative

The supervising CPA must designate the employee through the firm's portal account. To do so:

1. Log in to the supervising CPA's individual portal account. This is the same account used to renew their individual CPA license.
2. Select Manage Firms from the menu on the left side of the account page.
3. Locate the firm and select Continue to access the firm's main page.
1. Use the Authorized Representative option on the firm's main page to designate the employee.

Once designated, the representative must create their own individual portal account using the information provided by the supervising CPA. The representative should not use the supervising CPA's login credentials.

After creating an account, the representative can log in and access the firm's information by selecting Manage Firms. An authorized representative can perform a variety of firm-related tasks through the portal.

How to Complete the Firm Registration Renewal

Whether completing the renewal through the supervising CPA's account or an authorized representative's account, the process is the same:

1. Log in to the appropriate individual portal account.
2. Select Manage Firms from the menu on the left side of the account page.
3. Locate the firm and select Continue to access the firm's main page.
4. Review and update the firm's contact information, including mailing address, email address, telephone number, and website address. Add or remove CPA employees or CPA owners, as needed.
5. Select the Renewals tab to begin the renewal.
6. Complete the required questions and attestations, report any applicable peer review compliance information, and pay the renewal fee.

After submitting the renewal and payment, the person completing the renewal can print a confirmation report showing the information and responses submitted.

December 31, 2026, Deadline

A firm's registration must be renewed or canceled by December 31, 2026. Firms that fail to meet this deadline may be subject to disciplinary action and civil penalties under 21 NCAC 08J .0111.

Simply not renewing a firm's registration does not cancel it. The supervising CPA or authorized representative must take action to formally cancel the registration.

More information on firm registration renewal and peer review compliance reporting is available on the website. Please contact the Board's Licensing Staff with specific questions about firm registration renewal or peer review compliance reporting.

Need to Cancel a Firm Registration?

Individual Practitioners: Cancel through the portal, email the Licensing Staff, or mail a written request to the Board.

Partnerships: Email the Licensing Staff, or mail a written request to the Board.

Professional Limited Liability Companies (PLLCs) and Professional Corporations (PCs): File Articles of Dissolution with the NC Department of the Secretary of State. Email or mail the Board a copy bearing the official filing stamp.

Limited Liability Partnerships (LLPs): File a Certificate of Cancellation with the NC Department of the Secretary of State. Email or mail the Board a copy bearing the official filing stamp.

All emails or letters to the Board requesting cancellation of a firm's registration must include the firm's name as registered with the Board, the firm's mailing address and phone number, and the supervising CPA's name, NC CPA number, and email address.

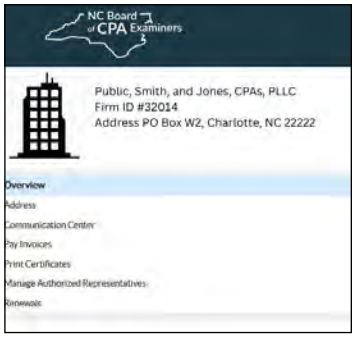

The request must also include a statement authorizing the Board to cancel the firm's registration.

Send Email to: licensing@nccpaboard.gov

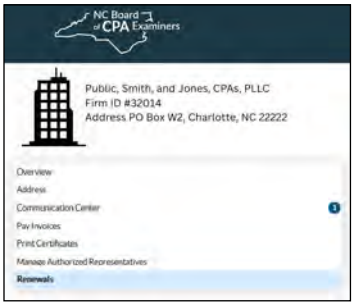

Send Mail to: NC CPA Board, PO Box 12827, Raleigh, NC 27605

After logging in to the portal, the user must select "Manage Firms."

Administrative tasks, such as updating information, are on this screen.

The user must select "Renewals" to complete the renewal.

Renewal requirements are listed on this screen.

Resolution Honoring Kecia Williams Smith, Ph.D., CPA

WHEREAS Dr. Kecia Williams Smith, CPA, has faithfully and distinguishedly served as a member of the North Carolina State Board of Certified Public Accountant Examiners since 2024; and

WHEREAS throughout her tenure, she has steadfastly advanced the Board's mission of protecting the public interest through her integrity, sound judgment, professionalism, and commitment to excellence; and

WHEREAS she has contributed her expertise and leadership as Chair of the Professional Education and Applications Committee and the Audit Committee, and as a member of the Personnel Committee, providing thoughtful guidance and insight on matters critical to the Board's responsibilities; and

WHEREAS her extensive experience as an accounting educator and academic leader has provided the Board with a valuable perspective on the preparation and development of future generations of CPAs, strengthening the Board's efforts to ensure excellence in professional education and licensure; and

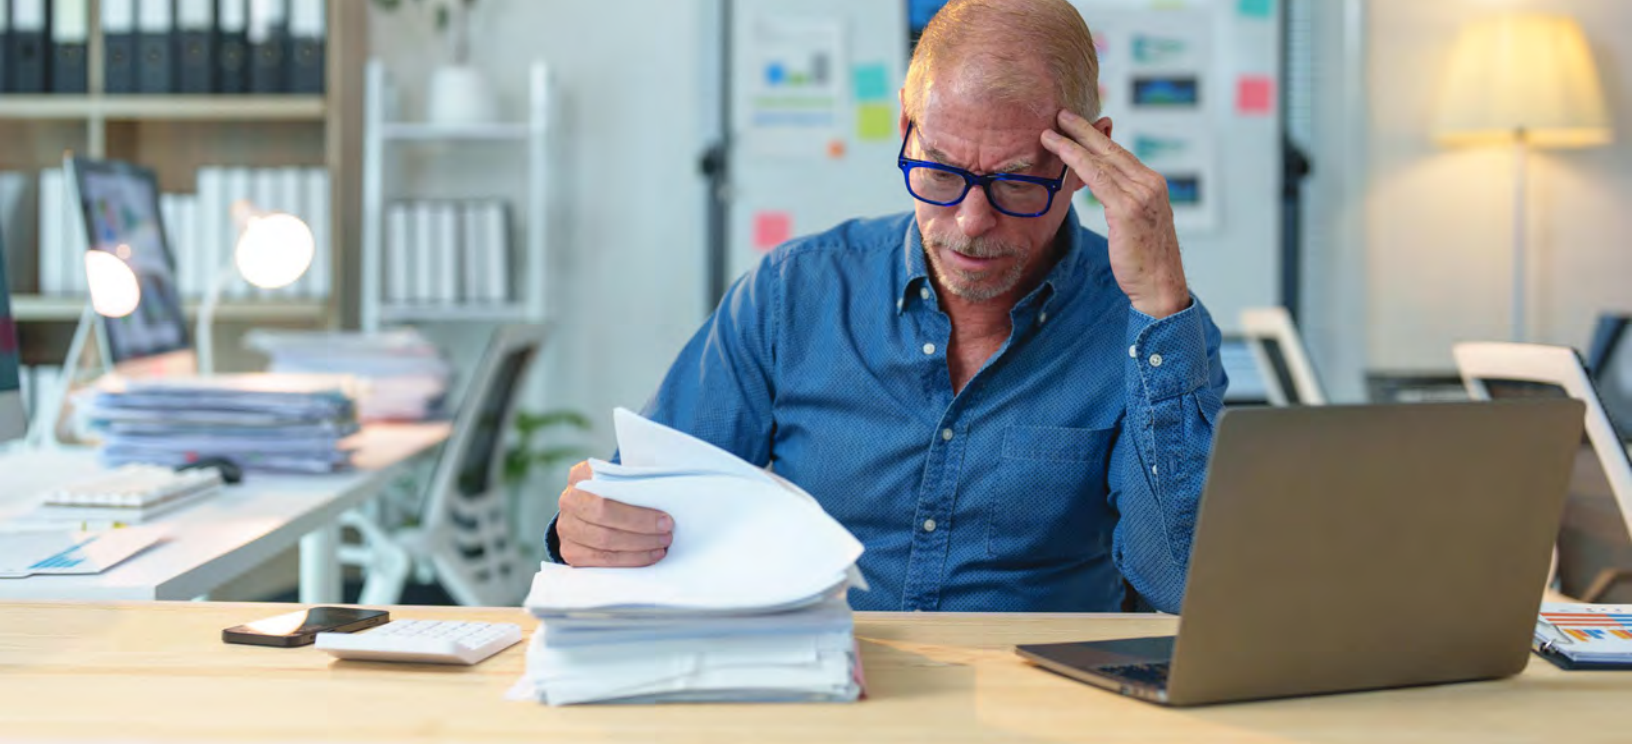

WHEREAS as an active member of the NCACPA and the AICPA, Dr. Smith has demonstrated a deep and continuing commitment to the advancement of the accounting profession and the promotion of the highest standards of professional practice; and

WHEREAS Dr. Smith's thoughtful leadership, collaborative spirit, and unwavering dedication to ethical conduct and professional excellence have earned the respect and admiration of her fellow Board members, staff, and stakeholders, while advancing the Board's important work on behalf of the citizens of North Carolina;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the North Carolina State Board of Certified Public Accountant Examiners hereby express their sincere gratitude and highest appreciation to Dr. Kecia Williams Smith, CPA, for her exemplary service, outstanding leadership, and invaluable contributions to the regulation and advancement of the certified public accounting profession in North Carolina; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Resolution be entered into the official minutes of the North Carolina State Board of Certified Public Accountant Examiners and that a copy be presented to Dr. Kecia Williams Smith, CPA, as a lasting expression of the Board's appreciation and recognition of her distinguished service and dedication.

Adopted on the 16th day of November 2026 by the North Carolina State Board of Certified Public Accountant Examiners.

Can't Meet the December 31 CPE Deadline?
You May Be Eligible for an Extension

All CPAs, except for CPAs on inactive or CPA-retired status, are required to meet the annual CPE requirement. The Board recognizes that unexpected events, such as serious illness, accidents, or natural disasters, can interfere with your ability to complete your annual CPE requirement.

If extraordinary circumstances prevent you from completing your 2026 CPE by the December 31, 2026, deadline, you may request an extension to complete your CPE without penalty.

The Board may approve an extension when circumstances beyond a licensee's control make it difficult or impossible to meet the December 31 deadline.

How to Request a CPE Extension

To request an extension to complete your 2026 CPE requirement, submit the Request for Extension to Complete CPE Requirement form, a written explanation of your circumstances, and supporting documentation, such as medical records or an accident report, to the Licensing Staff.

The Board will begin accepting completed CPE Extension Requests, including all supporting documents, on January 1, 2027, with a submission deadline of March 1, 2027.

Requests that do not include supporting documents or are received after March 1, 2027, may not be considered.

What Circumstances Might Qualify for an Extension?

An extension may be considered when extraordinary circumstances beyond your control prevent you from completing your CPE on time. These circumstances need not involve you personally.

For example, a serious medical condition, accident, or other emergency involving a spouse, dependent, or another immediate family member for whom you have significant caregiving responsibilities may be considered.

Other examples may include a natural disaster or another major emergency that directly affects your ability to complete the required CPE. Each request is evaluated individually, and you must provide supporting documentation.

The Professional Education and Application Committee reviews each request individually. Approval is not guaranteed, so CPAs must continue working to complete their outstanding CPE after December 31 and while their request is under review.

What Circumstances Generally Do Not Qualify?

Routine scheduling challenges and misunderstandings about CPE requirements typically do not constitute extraordinary circumstances. For example:

- Being busy at work, changing jobs, or having competing professional responsibilities;
- Forgetting the December 31 deadline or being unaware of it;
- Going on vacation or getting married;
- Forgetting to obtain the required ethics CPE; or
- Relying on carry-forward minutes that haven't been verified through the Board portal

Licensees are responsible for tracking their CPE and meeting annual requirements. Check your CPE totals and carry-forward balance well before the deadline to avoid surprises.

CPE Extension Requests

What Happens if My Extension Is Approved?

If the Board approves your request, you will receive a specific extension, such as 30 or 60 days, but not beyond June 30, 2027, to complete your CPE.

An approved extension may allow you to complete your CPE without the consequences of missing the December 31 deadline, provided you meet conditions the extension. Board staff will audit your CPE records to verify that you met the extension conditions.

What If I Don't Qualify for an Extension or Don't Request One?

If you do not complete the 2026 CPE requirement by December 31, 2026, you may still have time to complete your CPE and renew your license. North Carolina allows licensees who miss the December 31 CPE deadline to complete their outstanding requirements by June 30 of the following year. For the 2026 CPE requirement, the deadline is June 30, 2027.

This is sometimes called the grace period, and is not the same as an approved extension. You do not need to submit an extension request to use this grace period.

Your current license remains in effect through June 30, 2027, and you may continue practicing under that license while completing your outstanding CPE. When you renew your certificate in 2027, you must select the appropriate CPE compliance option.

Using the grace period to complete your CPE requirements does not eliminate the potential for Board action. The Board's response will depend on whether you have previously missed a CPE deadline during the preceding rolling five-year period:

- First Missed Deadline: The Board will issue a Letter of Warning and require you to undergo a CPE audit covering 2026 and 2027.
- Second Missed Deadline: The Board may deny your license renewal for at least 30 days and until you satisfy the requirements for reissuance of your license.

For many CPAs, completing the remaining CPE during the grace period is a practical way to meet requirements and renew their license.

The key is to complete all outstanding requirements by June 30 and to understand the potential consequences of missing the December 31 deadline.

What If I Don't Complete My CPE by June 30?

If you do not complete your outstanding CPE by June 30, 2027, you may request inactive or CPA-retired status before your license expires on June 30, 2027.

If individuals on inactive or CPA-retired status wish to return to active status, they must meet the applicable reinstatement requirements. While on inactive or CPA-retired status and until your application for reinstatement has been approved, you cannot identify yourself as an active CPA.

Questions?

For specific questions about requesting a CPE extension, contact the Board's Executive Director. For general questions about CPE requirements, contact the Licensing staff.

CPA Exam Testing and Score Release Changes: What Candidates Need to Know for 2027-2028

If you are planning to take the Uniform CPA Exam in 2027 or 2028, there are important changes to the testing and score release schedules you should know about.

Beginning in July 2027, the CPA Exam will move to a new technology platform. Although the Exam sections themselves are not changing as part of this transition, candidates will experience a new testing interface, a temporary break in testing, and longer waits for scores.

Understanding these changes now can help you plan your testing schedule and avoid unexpected delays.

What's Changing?

The AICPA is replacing the technology platform used to deliver the CPA Exam at Prometric testing centers. The new platform is expected to provide:

- Improved accessibility features.
- A more modern and user-friendly testing experience.
- Faster and more efficient processing.
- Greater flexibility for future technology updates.

Candidates will continue to take the same Core and Discipline Exam sections. The primary changes involve the testing interface, including how candidates navigate the Exam and interact with questions and other testing features.

Temporary Testing Blackout: July 1–11, 2027

There will be a temporary pause in CPA Exam testing from July 1 through July 11, 2027. This period is commonly referred to as a testing blackout. A blackout period is a scheduled period when candidates cannot take the Exam.

In this case, the pause will allow the AICPA and Prometric to retire the current platform and implement the new one. Testing is scheduled to resume on July 12, 2027, using the new platform.

If you are planning to test during the summer of 2027, be sure to account for this 11-day interruption when scheduling your Exam sections.

Why Will Score Releases Take Longer?

The transition to a new testing platform will also affect how quickly candidates receive their scores.

After a significant change to the Exam, the AICPA must collect and evaluate candidate responses to make sure questions are performing as expected and that scores remain accurate, consistent, and fair. This process is called recalibration.

In simple terms, even though the Exam content is not changing, the AICPA needs to evaluate how questions perform in the new testing environment before it can confidently release scores. This requires collecting enough candidate responses and analyzing the results.

As a result, score releases will follow a modified schedule for approximately 12 months after the new platform launches. Candidates should expect less frequent score releases and longer waits between testing and receiving their results.

What Will Happen to Core and Discipline Exam Schedules?

The temporary schedule changes will affect Core and Discipline sections differently.

Exam Testing and Score Release Changes

Core Sections

From the third quarter of 2027 through the second quarter of 2028, Core sections will follow four extended testing windows rather than the more frequent testing and score release schedule candidates are accustomed to.

This approach gives the AICPA additional time to collect and evaluate candidate responses before releasing scores.

Discipline Sections

Discipline testing will resume on July 12, 2027, with a special testing window running through August 12, 2027.

After that special window, Discipline sections will return to the regular schedule, with testing available during the first month of each calendar quarter.

How Should Candidates Prepare?

A little advance planning can help you avoid unnecessary stress during this transition.

- Plan around the testing blackout. No testing will be available July 1–11, 2027. Schedule your Exam sections accordingly.
- Allow extra time for score releases. If you plan to test after the new platform launches, be prepared for longer waits before receiving your results.
- Consider your Exam credit expiration dates. If you have previously passed a section and are working within the 30-month credit period, allow enough time for testing, score processing, and any potential delays.
- Become familiar with the new platform. Once the AICPA makes practice materials or other information about the new interface available, take time to review them before your scheduled Exam.
- Check the official schedules. Testing windows and score release dates may change as the transition approaches.
